ANNIVERSARY

八十週年紀念特刊
October 8, 2019

Dear Readers,

The creation of Clear Water Bay campus’ 80th anniversary commemorative album has been an intense undertaking, during a few short weeks from mid-September to early October 2019. While I would have liked more time to assemble the content and do additional research, in the end, the pages in this album contain relevant contemporary and archival images and facts. They also convey the hopes, feelings, aspirations and achievements, of generations of alumni, students, faculty, and school leaders of Hong Kong Adventist College and the former Clear Water Bay Sam Yuk Middle School. I hope you’ll enjoy perusing its pages, reminiscing about school days, and remembering happy times!

It’s been my honour and privilege to work together with HKAC faculty and staff, steering committee members to plan and launch 2019’s 80th campus anniversary Alumni Homecoming Celebration. We’ve had regular team meetings (as well as ad hoc discussions) to consider myriad events and communications details, bigger picture ideas, and our various constituencies locally and globally. Our diligence will culminate in a celebration weekend from October 25th through 26th, 2019 that includes three worship services, a walking/hiking activity, a ribbon cutting commemorative monument ceremony, a traditional Chinese qilin good luck dance performance, and a catered gala dinner. We will look forward to receiving guests from various communities, such as: Clear Water Bay campus alumni, employees of Adventist organizations (Hong Kong Macau Conference, China Union Mission, Sam Yuk Secondary Schools of Tai Po and of Kwailoon, Hong Kong Adventist Hospital—St comfy Road and Tuen Wan), current and former HKAC/HKAA/CAS campus faculty and staff; Clear Water Bay community village leaders, and Adventist organization leaders.

When you find time to read the personal reflections of alumni, former faculty, and special leaders, and glance at the class portraits of generations of alumni dating back to the beginning of the Clear Water Bay campus’ establishment in 1939, I hope you too will feel the powerful pull of history that harks all the way back to the beginning when Ms. Ida Elizabeth Thompson started her school for young girls that evolved through time, school levels, and historical circumstances into Hong Kong Adventist College on the Clear Water Bay Campus. Time does fly by quickly; it is amazing that 80 years have passed since the 40 acres of land were acquired by the Seventh-day Adventist Church to create a permanent base for a far reaching educational institution awarding bachelor degrees. We hope that you enjoy this commemorative album and that 80+ more years will continue on in this beautiful part of Hong Kong. The paramount mission of Hong Kong Adventist College on the Clear Water Bay campus is to teach core lessons in key academic departments, to instill Christian faith and service-based leadership skills, and to develop well-rounded, kind-hearted souls with critical thinking and communications abilities, who will make a difference in any organizations they may join.

I would like to personally thank the following people who through fellowship in team meetings, assistance in providing valuable article summaries/messages/photos/photographs, communications outreach means, and/or offering of helpful advice have all been in one way or another a boon to me in the creation of this commemorative album: Dr. Dan Cheung, Dr. Corinna Cheung, Annie Chan, Charlene Chow Pak, Gloria Choy, Jade Rosanne Justin, Shu Kwan Li, Christopher Liaw, Katarina Ma, Freddie Ma, Dixon Ng, Nana Phu, Anthony Poon, Arlene Singian, Pastor Ben Se Kwang Soo, Dave Wan, Priscilla Wong, Tommy Wong, Alice Wong, Joy Wong, Henry Ya'ang, Jonathan Yao, and Hosea Yening. Special thanks go to Andrew Phua who designed the campus' 80th anniversary logo, upon which this album's front cover is based, as well as his creation of the back cover from school badges designs developed by Gloria Choy at Benefides. My heartfelt thanks also extend to Yuko Liu who worked diligently from the start, in the design of multiple drafts of contributors’ message publication pages and the “The Past and the Present” Clear Water Bay campus leaders’portrait pages! Blessings and best wishes to you all and to our friends, sponsors, vendors, and communities, both near and far!

Ida Thompson established The Bethel Girls’ School, the 1st Adventist school in China in 1903. One can image that this girls’ school was intended to provide education opportunities for young women who were not encouraged to be educated by their culture at the time. The Bethel Girls’ School was integrated with Yick Chi Boys’ School, formerly established in 1905 as Sam Yuk School.

The Sam Yuk School was moved to its current location in Clear Water Bay in 1939. It was renamed to China and South China Training Institute. Since then, the name of this institution was changed again and again until it was finally named Hong Kong Adventist College in 1981.

In the past 80 years, Hong Kong has experienced many trials and tribulations including being occupied by the Japanese Imperial Army during the Second World War, China's Cultural Revolution, the booming manufacturing industry, the return of Hong Kong to Chinese sovereignty, the 2003 SARS epidemic, and the recent trade war between the United States and China. In spite of all that, Hong Kong Adventist College continues to inspire and educate young people to become leaders and professionals who serve and make positive impacts on societies. Although HKAC is a small college, the achievements and successes of our alumni can be found all over the world.

I truly believe the spirit and blessings of our Lord has been hovering over this campus for the past 80 years. I have seen His spirit and blessings spilled over to all those who have encountered our college. I also believe that He will continue leading this college to the level that will give glory to His name.

I am honored and humbled to be called to serve at this great institution. I thank God every day for giving me this opportunity to come back to my alma mater and work with a team of dedicated and compassionate servants of God. It is our goal to make this institution Accessible to all genders, races, ages, and religions; Affordable to all who seek education; Accountable for all we do, all we teach, and all we represent; and Accountable to our God, our students, and our society.

As I delve into my box of treasured memories and travel back to the past via the Tunnel of TIME, I was able to revisit with dear people and cherish moments we shared! Then I realized that days and decades have already swiftly flown by, yet memories of Clear Water Bay remain vivid. On this most beautiful campus, we students were nurtured by kind and diligent teachers, enabling us to become useful pillars in society. Even though the school is not counted among the elite campuses of the world, yet her graduates have succeeded in life and can be found all around the world! Besides gaining knowledge through books, our characters were being molded, and we were provided with practical training for a better future. We will always remember the love and friendships built here. On behalf of the North America San Yu Alumni Association, I congratulate my alma mater as she celebrates the 80th anniversary of the establishment of the Clear Water Bay campus! As this great institution grows and flourishes with God’s grace, may it continue to shine and light up the world, as well as continue to channel blessings to mankind!

Hong Kong Adventist College is where I began my formal teaching career in 1985. I remember coming to the college and being overwhelmed by the task of teaching English as a Second Language. Like many first-year teachers, I almost decided to quit teaching after that year. However, my students helped to transform me. They were so kind, funny, respectful, and caring. They changed my heart.

Since my first two years of teaching at Hong Kong Adventist College, I have had the opportunity to apply lessons learned here to teach in two other Adventist universities and several other private and public high schools. Nevertheless, throughout all this time, my heart always remembered HKAC, and I longed to return.

In the summer of 2018, I had the honor of being asked back to teach at HKAC. It was such a joy for me to teach again at a school that played such a crucial role in my professional teaching experience. I was again surrounded by friendly (and some of the same) colleagues, and I was also teaching some very kind, funny, caring, and respectful students.

My teaching experience at HKAC has been a blessing to me. I keep it in my prayers. May God always bless the work of the college, and most importantly, the life of its students and alumni.

CONGRATULATIONS to Hong Kong Adventist College and its dedicated staff for reaching a significant milestone – 80 years of educating young men and women, inspiring them in the way of the Lord, and giving them the solid foundation they need to make their mark in the world. Many, if not most, of these young people have gone on to make a big impact on other people’s lives all over the world.

It is an honor and a privilege to be connected to the Hong Kong Adventist College in more ways than one. I am not an alumnus of the College, but my father-in-law, Pastor H.S. Leung, was a principal of the school for 23 years. It was during his watch that the historic buildings on campus were constructed in 1939. He was instrumental in guiding the school through the Second World War. My wife, Doreen, spent a few memorable years growing up on the college campus.

I have been on the Hong Kong Adventist College Foundation Board, since it was founded in 1983 by Dr. Wong Yew Chong (HKAC President 1981-1983 and Clear Water Bay Sam Yuk Middle School Principal 1982-1984). Through his wisdom and foresight, the HKAC Foundation has been able to support the College financially “through thick and thin”, as it were.

Having been with the Foundation Board for the past 36 years, and having worked with every one of the college presidents through all those years, I am awed and humbled by the incredible leadership of the Lord. He truly can see the end from the beginning when many of us could not. There were times when many suggested that we close the College which had been struggling financially year after year. “Why should we continue pouring money into a sinking ship?” they asked. God knew what He was doing. Not only did He inspire Dr. Wong Yew Chong to use his expertise to start the HKAC Foundation at just the right time when no one else knew what to do with the struggling institution, He also solicited the assistance of the late Dr. Chan Shun as well as Dr. Julien Tan, in a huge way to support the Foundation. They were the Foundation’s original patrons who got the Foundation started on a strong financial footing. Without Dr. Chan Shun’s wisdom and leadership in chairing the Foundation through the first few years of its existence, the Foundation would not have survived all these years.

The Foundation has been able to sustain the College financially through the ups and downs of the past 30+ turbulent years. Those years “in the wilderness” were years God used to humble us, to teach us to trust in Him, and to prepare us for greater things to come. Hong Kong Adventist College is a lighthouse set on a hill in the middle of stormy seas, and it must continue casting its bright beams of light to pierce into the darkness.

On behalf of the Foundation Board, I want to express our deepest appreciation for the incredible dedication to the Lord’s work by Dr. Dan Cheung and Dr. Cojena Cheung. Their exemplary leadership has been an inspiration to many of us. As a result of their dedication and hard work, the College is now “seeing the light at the end of the long, long tunnel.”

Congratulations on a work well done. May our Lord continue to pour His richest blessings on the College and its dedicated staff.

Chairman, HKAC Foundation Board

Dr. and Mrs. Liem reside in Central California where Dr. Liem works as an obstetrician-gynecologist at the Monterey County hospital, Natividad Medical Center, in Salinas. Dr. Liem grew up in Singapore, graduated from Union College in Lincoln, Nebraska, then went on to obtain his MD degree and specialty training in Ob-Gyn from Loma Linda University, California. He was in private practice in Oregon for almost 30 years prior to relocating to Central California in 2007. Since his teenage years, he has actively supported the church as an organist/pianist. He is currently the organist at the Monterey Peninsula Adventist Church in Pacific Grove, California.

GREETINGS TO HONG KONG ADVENTIST COLLEGE

Congratulations on your 80th Anniversary, Hong Kong Adventist College

On behalf of Andrews University I am delighted to share our good wishes and blessings to you all on this important occasion. The beautiful setting of your campus, the strategic placement of the college in your part of the world, and the commitment of your faculty and staff all speak to the value of the education and faith experience you offer.

Andrews University and Hong Kong Adventist College have had a long and deeply valuable relationship. Many of your students have graduated from your campus with Andrews University degrees. Many have also transferred to Andrews to continue their studies. They are prepared and have done well.

You play a very important role in the Seventh-day Adventist Church in the area of the world you serve. The Church is stronger because of your graduates. Thank you very much.

Please enjoy your celebrations! Our prayers are with you.

Andrea Luxton, PhD
President
The Education Department of the Seventh-day Adventist Church salutes Hong Kong Adventist College for the significant achievements that this 80th anniversary represents. This milestone is indicative of the rich heritage upon which HKAC is founded, as well as the many contributions that the institution has made across the years, and that it continues to make within the Asia-Pacific region and beyond, especially within the greater Chinese society.

On behalf of Seventh-day Adventist education worldwide, we congratulate the leadership of the College campus throughout these eight decades, and each one who has had a part in making what HKAC is today, an institution of higher education of which we all are proud.

May God continue to bless Hong Kong Adventist College as it moves forward into an ever brighter future, empowering students to grow in Christ spiritually, physically, and intellectually.

John Wesley Taylor V, PhD, EdD
Associate Director of Education
General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists
We begin by offering a tremendous thank you for inviting a couple of foreign strangers to spend two years on your campus. Sandra and I remember well the hospitality offered by the residents of HKAA and HKAC during the years 2011 - 2013.

As the first principal of the newly organized Hong Kong Adventist Academy, I understood the necessity of laying a good foundation for HKAC. So, it became critical to begin a self-evaluation leading to the accreditation of the institution. It became apparent from the beginning that several parents in the community had a strong desire to enroll their sons/daughters in a private Seventh-day Adventist education. The religious witness of SDA publications, of teachers, and staff became a theme of the educational process.

The elementary school began with an enrollment of just under 20 students while the secondary school had over 40 students. Because of the excellent skills of Ms. Karen Saarinen (who recently departed for her eternal rest), the elementary school doubled in size during the second year. We could have had more students, if we could have found the space and qualified teacher assistance. Due to the strong leadership and financial support of HKAC, the primary and secondary schools began to develop and grow into what is currently recognized as Hong Kong Adventist Academy.

Even though we are thousands of kilometers distant from the campus, we listen carefully and with curiosity to the information coming from your institutions, all the while knowing that these are God’s Schools and He is in control of their development. We think of this often and will continue to keep you all in our thoughts and prayers.

Cleon and Sandra White
Hong Kong Adventist Academy Principal (2011-2013)
It is with immense pleasure that I take this opportunity to warmly congratulate Hong Kong Adventist College on its campus' auspicious 80th anniversary celebration.

Certainly, it is difficult for any institution to sustain the same vision over the years - a feat that Adventist College has not only maintained, but fully actualized. The College has dedicated itself to the shaping of students, in order to better serve the public, the church, and the world. Apart from excellent training, the College’s effort in sowing the seeds of the gospel into our hearts is equally impressive. This could not have been done without the beloved staff. With their exemplary embodiment of Christ’s teachings and values in both words and deeds, the cumulative effect on our lives reverberates to this day.

On this special occasion, I hope the 80th anniversary celebrations will be memorable, and members will be fruitful. Once again, I wish our alma mater great success in her future endeavours and am eager to witness new achievements in the coming years! May the Lord continue to guide us:

Whatever you do, Work at it with all your heart, as working for the Lord, not for men. Colossians 3:23 (NIV)

My family has a special bond with Hong Kong Adventist College, as both my parents were students and faculty members at the College. It was also my home for most of my childhood for a total of 15 years. Most of my formative education through secondary school was at HKAC (formerly known as SCUC or South China Union College).

In recent years, I have the honor to serve on the HKAC Foundation Board. This gave me the opportunity to see how God has led the College over the years. Seeing how she continues to make a different in the lives of many young people gives me great joy. Congratulations to the 80th Anniversary of HKAC and its precursors being in Clear Water Bay, ever since the initial relocation from China in 1939. This is a major milestone that only a few educational institutions can claim to have achieved. May God continue to lead and bless the leadership of the College to finishing His great commission in the Asia Pacific region.

Allow me who was on the Clear Water Bay campus 80 years ago as a seven year old girl to say, “Congratulations on your 80th anniversary!” My father, Pastor H. S. Leung who was head of this school for 23 years, moved our school from China to Clear Water Bay. Even though Japan bombed Hong Kong and occupied it so that my father had to move the school inland to Lao Lung on the East River in Guangdong Province for five years, we never lost a semester. When WWII ended, we moved back to the original campus in Guangzhou for one year and then back to this beautiful campus in 1947. Also, during the time we were at Clear Water Bay, twice our college in Chiaotoutseng moved onto our campus and coexisted for some time—once in 1940 because of the Japanese and again in 1948 because of the Communists Party in China. But through it all, Clear Water Bay was like a beloved child of God, always under His care and blessing. We can thank God for the numerous students who have studied at Clear Water Bay and became mighty workers for the SDA Church around the world. May God continue to bless!

I am a retired medical secretary and wife of a Loma Linda University ophthalmologist. We reside in Loma Linda, California since 1960. I finished 10th grade at Clear Water Bay and left in 1949 for the US. Later on, I graduated from La Sierra University in 1954. Our whole three-generational family visited Clear Water Bay last year and made sure we had a photo taken under the “1939” carved on the HKAC administration building!

Every educational institution has its uniqueness and so does this College. HKAC is a unique school that brings art and the sacred to its students. It provides balanced curricula that compose elements from the Holy Bible to languages, from history to sacred music, from life and physical science to logistic and critical thinking, and from social sciences to fitness education. It is evidenced that from the past, education at HKAC has enriched life in the classrooms, at the chapel, through worship, and in the fields where faculty and students have involved in. The students have learned to use their heads and hands while at school. Many have contributed their minds, time, talents, and services after their graduation, thereby reflecting the image of God and expressing their faithfulness and kindness at homes and at work.

I am so grateful for the half century that I have spent here at HKAC. I studied here, made buddies here, and found my wife here. My children were also all born here. Furthermore, I worked here from the elementary school to the middle school and from the College to the Seminary. HKAC has produced many others with even greater and more exciting life experiences, and many have served as leaders of churches from East to West.

God has used HKAC in a unique way through the pioneers and through faithful faculty and staff, in molding the characters of the young people. Through them, lives were shaped in global Chinese communities. God has been with HKAC in the past and is still with HKAC today.

Congratulations on 80 great years on the Clear Water Bay campus!

Dear President Cheung, Faculty and Staff, and Students:

Congratulations to you as you celebrate the 80th Anniversary of the establishment of Hong Kong Adventist College and Sam Yuk Middle School on the Clear Water Bay campus.

During its long and rich history, this institution has successfully demonstrated that the work of education and the work of redemption are one. Your alumni over the years have faithfully served God and society, not only in Hong Kong and Macau, but all over the world.

May the Lord bless Hong Kong Adventist College and Hong Kong Adventist Academy, as you continue to educate young people and prepare them for His imminent return.

In today's world of constant change, not many institutions have the privilege of celebrating an 80th anniversary. For this we give thanks to our mighty God who has sustained HKAC through the myriad of challenges it has faced from war to financial issues to changes in the educational environment in all of Asia, just to name a few.

My brief tenure at HKAC can best be summarized in these 3 words: God is good! Through the working relationships with dedicated faculty and staff and most importantly of all through a shared vision fueled by our strong sense of mission from God, my journey at HKAC has confirmed my belief in our Heavenly Father who has a thousand ways of providing for us, of which we know nothing. Armed with this assurance, HKAC can move forward with courage and trust in a God who knows the end from the beginning. All glory to His name!

In 1962, because of my poor Primary 6 government examination results, I went to this boarding school by default. This is probably the only school that would accept me, because most of my older siblings went there.

We were all made to do volunteer work every Wednesday afternoon with a grumbling attitude. I often wondered whose grand idea was this? We were all made to eat vegetarian food because that’s all that was served in the cafeteria. I wondered whose funny idea was that? School work was important, but it never was as interesting as playing in the football field, hiking up Fisherman’s Peak, swimming in the school beach, walking to Lobster Bay, playing the trumpet, singing in the Quartet/Choir, or just simply walking around the school front circle on Friday night. We went to many worship services. Some were interesting, while others, we just slept through the sermons. Somewhere along that time, I was baptized into the church.

In 1975, I went back as a teacher, and I did the same thing all over again, whether it was because of tradition, or just part of my teaching duty. Later on, I became the principal. Again, we ran the same sort of programs just like my predecessors had done. Did I really understand the real reason behind our Education Philosophy? Not really, other than it was based on E. G. White’s writing.

Now, a few decades later, with the combined advancement of Educational Psychology and Neuroscience, things have progressed. In the last ten years, research has confirmed that our system of learning experience carries the best ingredients to help a young mind mature into a complete human being.

My salute to Hong Kong Adventist College and Hong Kong Adventist Academy on your 80th Anniversary! May you continue to follow your tradition with a renewed sense of conviction. In that way, you can continue to guide a young person into maturity. This can make a positive impact not only in their lives, but also in their families, their surroundings, and in society.

by Bunjee C.B. Choi, Sam Yuk Clear Water Bay Principal (1980-1982)

1962年，由於我的小學升中試成績欠佳，我去了這所寄宿學校。這可能是唯一接受我的學校，因為我大多數的兄姐都在那裡畢業。

每個星期三下午我們都是以抱怨的態度做義務工。我常常想知道是誰人出的好主意？我們都變成素食者，因為這就是餐廳唯一供應的食物。我也想知道這些有趣想法是從哪里來的？學校的讀書及工作非常重要，但它從來沒有像在球場上玩，爬上釣魚峰，在校灘游泳，步行到龍蝦灣，吹喇叭，到班/部練習或者只是在周五晚上繞著學校前面的圈子走路一樣有趣。我們去了很多崇拜會議。有時講者很有趣，但有時，我們在聚會中，只是睡了一覺。但在那個人生的階段，我受洗加入了教會。

1975年，我回去作老師，無論是因為傳統還是僅僅是我教學任務的一部分，我還是一遍又做同样的事情。後來，我成為校長。同樣，我們像我的前輩一樣進行相同類型的教學活動。我真的了解教育理念背後的原因嗎？不是，是基於懷愛倫的著作。

現在，幾乎十年後，隨著教育心理學和神經科學的共同發展。在過去的十年中，研究已經證實，我們的教育理念具有最好的成分，幫助年輕人成長為一個完全的人。

藉著創校80週年紀念，我謹向香港三育院及香港基督學校致敬。願你再次以堅定的信念繼續追隨你尊貴的傳統。這樣，你就可以繼續引導年輕人，令到他們心志成熟。使他們不僅可以在自己的生活中，而且可以為他們的家庭，周圍環境和社會帶來積極的影響。

蔡昭斌先生 (1980-1982 SYMS)
香港三育書院是我的母校，能成為當中的一份子真是福氣，只有在此就讀過的人才懂得讚嘆這全是神的恩典。在慶祝母校在港辦校的80周年，我藉此特意衷心感謝天父、校董、師長及職員們所做的一切，尤其按主的教導悉心引領和牧養我和內子；畢業後也讓我倆能在教會機構中事奉，有機會成為主微小的器皿，還可天天學習照顧弟兄中最小的。

同時，每每見到在母校畢業的師兄弟姊妹，最大的感恩除他們能在不同機構的重要崗位服務外，他們還不斷地尋求神，發揮著校訓「止於至善」的精神，並無私地擔任堂會帶領弟兄姐妹認識真道的工作。他們這樣默默地事奉神是多麼的榮耀神，就如羅馬書10:15「報福音、傳喜信的人，他們的腳蹤何等佳美！」

願主賜主耶穌的恩惠賜福予母校、神的慈愛讓更多人有同樣的機會被神帶領到母校學習、聖靈的感動常常澆灌各人，不但使他們在「靈智體」三育中得到造就，日後更能成為主的兒女，體驗以服務為任及救恩的喜樂，直等到主的再來。

The History of Hong Kong Adventist College and Clear Water Bay Sam Yuk Middle School

The educational work conducted by American Seventh-day Adventists in China has its origins in the Southern part of China's mainland. In 1903, the church operating in Guangzhou founded its first school, which later on, through several name changes and moves, eventually became Hong Kong Adventist College in 1981. That first school was called "The Bethel Girls' School". Two years later in 1905, "The Yunk Chi Boys' School" was also established. By 1911, the school for boys was closed and later reopened as a middle school in 1916. That was the start of "Sam Yuk School".

Lands were purchased in the eastern part of Guangdong city (Canton) to enable the rapid development of "Sam Yuk School". In 1922, "Sam Yuk School" erected a school plan. By the time the buildings were ready for occupancy, "The Bethel Girls' School" was folded into the "Sam Yuk" school system. The new middle school served the Guangxi (Kwangsi), Guangzhou (Kwangtung), and Hakka (Hakka) Missions in the Southern China region. By 1933, the South China Union Mission took charge of "Sam Yuk School" and renamed it "Canton Training Institute".

China fell into war time turmoil, in 1937, when the Sino-Japanese War began. In order to survive this chaotic period, "Canton Training Institute" moved temporarily to Sha Tin, Hong Kong. At this time, "Canton Training Institute" became "South China Training Institute". Later, the "China Training Institute" (Junior College), which was another Adventist educational institution in Central China, was also moved to the same location. The two schools were integrated to become the "China and South China Training Institute". Not long afterward, a parcel of land consisting of 40 acres was purchased by the Seventh-Day Adventist Church at Clear Water Bay in the New Territories. A plan developed for a permanent campus began, and two years later in 1939, campus buildings designed by Elder Chu Yue-tat. Of the original eight buildings, five buildings remain on campus to this day in 2019.

In 1942, World War II broke out. Hong Kong people were placed under Japanese occupation for three and a half years. Because of this calamity, the school reverted back to its prior name of "South China Training Institute" and returned to China's mainland near the town of Lao-ling in Guangdong province. When the war was near its end, the Clear Water Bay campus was seized by the British colonial army. In order to continue its educational mission, the "South China Training Institute" relocated back to its former site in the district of Tung-shan in Guangdong for one year. Not until 1947 was the school able to return to the Clear Water Bay campus in Hong Kong.

The Far Eastern Division of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church authorized the South China Island Union Mission to open a college to provide tertiary education in 1958. The middle school was also incorporated into the Clear Water Bay campus. At this point, mainland China's "Great Leap Forward" started to collectively feed the population. The resulting widespread famine on the mainland spilled over into Hong Kong, where many refugees arrived through the early 1960s. In 1962, the college curriculum was launched and by 1964, the secondary and tertiary education was combined. The combined educational entity was named "South China Union College".

From 1966 to 1976, it was the decade known as mainland China's Cultural Revolution. Historians view it as a destructive period for cultural heritage (art, books, and monuments) as well as for families. In 1978, the era of market reforms and state sanctioned capitalism began and was dubbed "socialism with Chinese characteristics". With the manufacturing sector taking off in

Hong Kong, in the 1960s, the consumer era began in earnest.

In 1972, the US president at the time paid a state visit to mainland China; he was the first American leader to visit the People’s Republic of China. His visit ended 25 years of no communications between the US and China. It began the normalization of diplomatic relations between two of the planet’s eventual economic “super powers”, the United States and China.

Later on, in 1981, “Hong Kong Adventist College” (HKAC) was the new name for “South China Union College”, in order to designate it as a separate entity from “Sam Yuk Middle School”. The Hong Kong Department of Education approved the registration of HKAC. The College made rapid progress with enrolment growing steadily. As time went by, it became clear that buildings would require renovation. Therefore, in 1989, HKAC’s Board of Directors approved a major redevelopment plan for the campus. Lands located in the hillside were Cheung Kong (Holdings) Limited, in order to create funds for the campus redevelopment project. In 1997, new campus facilities were launched on the Clear Water Bay campus. That same year, the United Kingdom (UK) returned Hong Kong sovereignty to mainland China after approximately 155 years of colonial rule. The British captured Hong Kong Island in 1841, during the First Opium War and were officially ceded the territory in 1842, under the Treaty of Nanking.

By the 1990s, families on the mainland could aspire to household goods. Air conditioning, which is now deemed indispensable in the era of climate change, was within the realm of possible attainment too. Historically, both mainland China and Hong Kong experienced more turmoil when severe acute respiratory syndrome (SARS) occurred in Guangdong province and spilled over into Hong Kong from early 2003 through mid-2004. Thankfully, the origins of the disease were discovered, and the epidemic was contained within a year and half. The so-called “Umbrella Movement” took place in 2014 and caused much unrest in the central business districts of Hong Kong Island. In 2019, despite ongoing US/China trade war, the African Swine Flu virus affecting mainland China pig farms, and 2019’s newly erupted Hong Kong protest movement across urban and New Territories districts, Hong Kong Adventist College remains steadfast in its educational, spiritual, and community service aims.

In the early 21st century, Hong Kong Adventist College, and until 2008 Sam Yuk Middle School (now incorporated into Hong Kong Adventist Academy) have been members of a vast global educational system. As of June 2019, there are reported to be around 8,000 Seventh-day Adventist schools and colleges operating around the globe. Reportedly over 65,000 faculty and staff help run these institutions, and thereby, help make the Seventh-Day Adventist Church to be the second largest educational system on the planet. Hong Kong Adventist College proudly joins hands with Seventh-day Adventist schools throughout the Asia Pacific region and around the globe in our joint mission to provide quality education within the church community and for society at large.

HKAC provides a Christian liberal arts education with the intention to help students integrate into society, excel in academic achievements, and learn subjects as diverse as business, health, music, and psychology. Students also get involved in extra-curricular school activities. These student activities include: school choir, local and overseas mission trips, sports such as basketball and soccer/football, piano lessons, and theatre. Special student activities occur during Art Day, Cultural Day, Environmental Day, Food and Fun Fair, Veggie Festival, Recreation Day, and Christmas Day. Not only are students accepted through the admissions process, they are also embraced into the friendly campus community without regard to gender, race, age, or religion.
The History of Hong Kong Adventist College and Clear Water Bay Sam Yuk Middle School

During this 80th anniversary year of 2019, Hong Kong Adventist College is undergoing renovations of Bayview Church and a few classrooms since summertime. The obelisk monument was moved near the front gate of the campus in September 2019. An 80th campus anniversary monument is being installed on the front lawn, as of this album’s printing deadline. It will look like a giant chess board, so the administration hopes the community at large will eventually play chess games on it! A new music program launched in autumn 2019; there are several, newly built piano practice rooms and a lovely music classroom with a white board. By 2020, the school cafeteria will also undergo a menu and interior design update. By then, HKAC looks forward to a joint nursing program with Andrews University and expanded business course offerings. The campus will continue to evolve, renovate, expand, and open its gates to those near and far.

While it remains a challenge for an accredited Seventh-day Adventist educational institution to remain vigilant in its calling to spread the gospel and stay on the non-profit path of recruiting and educating local and global youth, Hong Kong Adventist College continues this mission on the Clear Water Bay campus. Approximately half of HKAC students are from Hong Kong, while the other half are from the Asia Pacific region and beyond. HKAC and Sam Yuk Middle School Clear Water Bay graduates can now be found all over the planet, including Hong Kong, Japan, the Philippines, South Korea, Taiwan, Australia, Canada, the United States, the United Kingdom.

The Clear Water Bay campus faculty and staff of HKAC look forward to educating and providing guidance to new generations of globally oriented and digitally savvy students, to prepare them to be kind, charitable people of leadership substance in church communities, in various non-profit, business services, goods and industrial sectors, and in myriad cultures. As the African proverb goes, “It takes a whole village to raise a child”. Faculty and staff on the Clear Water Bay campus take this especially to heart with teachings and collaborative initiatives that inspire students’ minds, bodies, souls, and physical fitness, as well as help build their compassion for their fellow human beings. By the time students graduate from Hong Kong Adventist College, they have been equipped with the tools to enable them to be meaningful contributors to society. Long may HKAC on the scenic Clear Water Bay campus carry on its heartfelt educational, faith-based, and motivational guidance traditions!

“The College was built due the outbreak of the Sino-Japanese War in 1937, when the South China Training Institute from Guangzhou moved to Hong Kong and needed a permanent campus. The Institute temporarily settled in Sha Tin, and later a permanent campus was built at a site on Clear Water Bay Road, which is now the Hong Kong Adventist College. Established by the Seventh-day Adventist Church in 1939, the school moved back to the mainland and remained active throughout the Second World War, and eventually returned to Hong Kong in 1947. Congratulations to Hong Kong Adventist College on its campus' 80th anniversary! May God continue to guide and bless the College, our alma mater, so that it will continue to be a beacon shining brightly from Clear Water Bay.

We have fond memories of our time there. Phoebe graduated from there in 1951, when it was called South China Training Institute.

Blessings,
Phoebe (Lee) and Jacob Chang
Thanks to President Samuel Young for taking an underperforming pupil like me to study Form VI in Clear Water Bay. It gave me a chance to turn my life around. Even though my grades were poor, the teachers did not give up on me. I also made many lifelong friends on this campus. What I learned here prepared me for college study in US later. Congratulations on the occasion of the 80th anniversary of this wonderful educational institution’s campus. May this college continue to train more young people to make a difference in life!

South China Union College (now Hong Kong Adventist College) at Clear Water Bay located at the beautiful surrounding above 相思湾. It provided a well-rounded education for our alumni.

The scenic view let us feel the presence of God, and thus helped us grow SPIRITUALLY. The faculty and staff prepared us ACADEMICALLY for our future careers. The campus allowed us ample space to exercise our bodies PHYSICALLY, especially the volunteer work such as cutting grass and pulling weeds. These are the essence of 三育. Moreover, dormitory life promoted our SOCIAL skills to live with one another in harmony. Therefore, 灵智体群 aspects of education were all fulfilled.

We are grateful to our alma mater for laying down the stable foundation for our lives. Congratulations to our alma mater for 80 years of successful education! May God be glorified!

I have many fond memories of Clear Water Bay, as I attended as a nursing student during 1973-1974. Friendships were made, and life goals were set on this beautiful campus. May God continue to bless the college in leading more young people to walk in the right path. Happy 80th anniversary!

Congratulations to Hong Kong Adventist College on the occasion of its campus’ 80th Anniversary:

It was Voltaire who once said, “The biggest reward for a thing well done is to have done it.” For the last 80 years since its founding in 1939 at the Clear Water Bay campus, Hong Kong Adventist College had done precisely that – educating, cultivating, and nurturing young people from all walks of life to realize their potential to take their respective places in society. Despite many obstacles, during times of war or in times of peace, under God’s leading, the school had never wavered from this noble objective. I count it a true honor to be among those who were blessed with the opportunity of passing through its halls of learning. To my alma mater, may I express my sincere gratitude...

“Well done and congratulations! The fruits of your labors are indeed sweet. May you continue to inspire all your future graduates to become genuine blessings to whatever communities they find themselves.”

Since 1953, I lived with my parents Lim-Shang and Yuk-Kie Chan in the Clear Water Bay community. I started attending the campus' first primary school in Primary I, which had only two students. In 1959, I graduated from the school's Primary VI class.

My schoolmates and I thoroughly enjoyed nature and fresh air in the boarding school. We were given free rein to explore the beautiful environment by the ocean, making friends, and developing our character. No wonder many of them later became successful in business, education, church and other professions!

Our school has really grown for even greater success. Congratulations to HKAC for its campus' 80th Anniversary!

My happiest years were at HKAC or SCUC (South China Union College), as we old timers call it. I found that it afforded me the time and space away from my parents, but I was well nurtured. My dean, Mrs. Lily Yeung, took such good care of me. Other teachers were also kind, and especially Dr. Samuel Young, who was my best confidant. They encouraged us beyond the call of duty. All in all, I am eternally grateful to God and my parents for making the decision to place me in SCUC (now HKAC). Its beauty still astounds me.

May God continue to bless His workers in the Clear Water Bay campus, until the second coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

God has blessed so many of His students and coworkers for the last 80 years. My wife Teresa (吳麗霞, AS in Ministerial Studies, 1976-1979) and me (黃元有), Four-year Diploma in Education and Religion, 1976-1980; BA in Religion - Loma Linda University affiliated program, 1983) were well trained and nurtured by the professional effort and spiritual love of His faithful faculty and staff of that era. For these gifts, we heartily say thank you to our alma mater! The opportunity God granted us, to minister to the needs of His children for seven years, was a blessing to our family too.

We have become what we are today because of you, our beloved SCIUC and HKAC. For all you have taught and provided to us (including pastoral care duties), we are in debt to you forever! Congratulations!

Congratulations for your 80th anniversary!

I am Roddy Wong, better known as 汪昇 who graduated and was baptized in 1956.

Sam Yuk Clear Water Bay is very special for me because the school introduced God to me, and I owed my spiritual/eternal life to her. I am extremely grateful to God for sending me to Sam Yuk and the school nurturing me through the most difficult years of my life. I would like to mention especially Mr. Delbert W. Curry (President, South China Training Institute now called Hong Kong Adventist College, 1953-1962), who was one of the principal leaders, during my school days. He and his wife took me under their wings and helped shape me into who I am today.

I am currently attending Sydney (Australia) Chinese Church. The teachers in those days would be surprised to learn that I am serving our living God today.

May God continuously bless the school and all her staff.

The Young Family

Dear Hong Kong Adventist College,

We want to congratulate you on your campus’ 80th birthday. Through these 80 years, many students, faculty and staff have passed through your gates. Many walked in wanting only an education, but what they received was much more than just book knowledge. They received wisdom, guidance, vision for their futures, and, most of all, they were introduced to God.

Through the example of your campus’ teachers and staff, many learned to be fine young men and women. They also learned how to deal with different types of people, as dorm life forces one to adapt to one’s environment. Unknowingly, they were being readied for integration into society.

You share visions to what future your students can aspire. You instill in them that they are better than their current social status. You allow them to dream that they can achieve and strive for better life circumstances, if they only put their minds to the task. As a result, a disproportionate number of your students have gone on to become great business people, doctors, dentist, nurses, lawyers, engineers, ministers and many other admirable professions.

You have placed an indelible image of a loving God into the minds of those that walk the campus circle. The worship services and songs are remembered 50 to 60 years later. Conversations that your faculty and staff have had with your students provided a spiritual foundation and planted necessary seeds of hope and aspiration.

As for our family, almost all our relatives have walked through your halls and sat in your classrooms. We are all very grateful for the privilege to be part of this wonderful institution. Our thoughts and prayers are always with you, even though it has been difficult to return often. I’m sure our father/husband would love to be at the celebration of Clear Water Bay’s 80th anniversary, if he was with us. Nevertheless, he is with you in spirit. You will have to bring him up to date on that day, when the trumpets will sound.

May you continue your mission to educate and introduce God to new generations. May you fulfill God’s commission, as Jesus said: “So send I you...” May God’s blessing be with you. May all that enter your gates experience His wonderful love and be introduced to His salvation.

With much love,
Janice Young, Samuel Young Jr, Peter Young, Sylvia Young-Lighthouse and families

[樂齡人生]：延續三資精神

二零一五年春，在校園內常見到一位年過七旬的老人家，滿無目的地走動，眼神亦現迷茫。筆者和她的家人溝通後，知道近年來，老人家的情緒常易怒，自我管理能力下降，伴隨健忘等問題，家人不知該如何是好。

根據世界衛生組織（WHO）的數據，全球有五千萬人罹患認知障礙症，每年有一千萬新症的個案。在香港，每十名70歲以上的長者就有一名患上認知障礙症，而且數目呈上升趨勢。認知障礙症問題是一個嚴重的全球性現象，雖然到目前爲止科學家還未知其真正的發病原因，但有研究顯示，若能及早發現，及時採取預防措施或介人治療方案，有望延緩病情惡化，而家人亦應及早做好相應準備。

香港三間書院健康系近年來致力於此領域，於二零一六年在香港中央圖書館舉辦了「積極面對認知障礙」講座。當時參加者非常踴躍，活動備受各界歡迎。隨後，更在夏舉辦了一系列【樂齡人生】的工作坊，邀請知名的老人專科醫生、職業治療師、心理學家、營養師、護理等師和院牧，從醫學、藥物、心理、心靈、患者起居、自理、認知、記憶訓練等層面，來探討認知障礙症，並幫助家人及時預防和患者改善病況。

過去兩年中，在“家樂園”成立的捐贈資助下，香港三間書院健康系和香港安養院合作，爲市民、本會義工及長者舉辦了一系列【樂齡人生】的講座和工作坊，獲得廣泛好評。步入老年是無可避免的事，但我們可以提早作準備，過健康的生活，使身體的功能不至於未老先衰，且能延緩病情惡化，健康生活【新起步】，從“三資”開始吧！

[Senior Living]: Continuation of the Sam Yuk Philosophy

In the autumn of 2015, a woman who was over 70 years old was often seen on campus. She was aimlessly walking around and her eyes were not seeing the path ahead. After communicating with her family, the author has learned that in recent years, the woman’s emotional changes have changed, her self-care abilities have declined, and forgetfulness and other issues have arisen. Her family did not know what to do.

According to the World Health Organization (WHO), there are 50 million people worldwide suffering from cognitive impairment, with 10 million new cases each year. In Hong Kong, one in ten elders over the age of 70 suffers from cognitive impairment, and the number is on the rise. The problem of cognitive impairment is a serious global phenomenon. Although scientists have not known the true cause of the disease so far, studies have shown that if early detection is made, timely preventive measures or interventional treatment programs can be expected to delay the deterioration of the disease. Families also then have the time to prepare accordingly.

The Hong Kong Adventist College Department of Health has been working in this field in recent years. In the spring of 2016, the Hong Kong Central Library held a seminar on "Actively Facing Brain Degeneration". The participants were very enthusiastic at the time, and the event was very popular. Later, in the early summer, a series of “Senior Living” workshops were held, inviting well-known elderly specialists, occupational therapists, psychologists, dieticians, fitness instructors and pastoralists, from the fields of medicine, medicine, and psychology. The mind, patient life, self-care, cognition, memory training and other aspects were presented, regarding cognitive disorders, in order to help families cope with and improve patients’ wellbeing.

In the past few years, under the grant of ANZ China, the Department of Health of the College and Hong Kong Adventist Hospital have jointly organized a series of [Senior Living] community seminars for citizens, our church members and the residents of the Clear Water Bay district. The public lectures and workshops have been well received. Stepping into old age is inevitable, but we can prepare earlier, aim to live a healthy life, prevent the premature decline of one’s body, and delay the deterioration of the mind through this disease. Let’s start a healthy lifestyle following the Sam Yuk philosophy of three (mind, body, and spirit).

Community Service Outreach: Global Youth Day 2018
By Dixon Ng, Junior, Department of Psychology

Hong Kong Adventist College (HKAC) Mission Team always wanted to contribute in both remote areas as well as the local area. On Global Youth Day, the Mission Team took the initiative to evangelize by distributing food in the homeless sector in Hong Kong.

Without prior knowledge, HKAC Mission Team decided to hold this event with another organization, Sunshine Action. HKAC Mission Team purchased meal boxes, blankets, drinks, fruits, etc. The distribution was taken place mostly in Sham Shui Po, northwest part of Kowloon.

During the distribution, many Mission Team members encounter many different people with a diverse background. Many of them understood that the food distribution was far from enough, with an instance that homeless people were getting kicked away from local authorities. It was a heartfelt experience for the Mission Team members.
Community Service Outreach: Global Youth Day 2019
By Jade Rozanne Justin, Sophomore, Department of Health

March 16, 2019 was a poignant moment for my friends and me. We had the privilege to visit the area of Nam Cheong in Hong Kong and treat those who are less fortunate than us. Led by Pastor Seo, Global Youth Day was launched for the youths to be “the hands and feet of Jesus.” The theme “Be the sermon” encourages us to be living out Jesus’ gospel commission, as He bade us to share the everlasting gospel and be a service to the needy.

The Global Youth Day program began at 2:00 pm with a short devotion and prayer by Dr. Dan Cheung, President of Hong Kong Adventist College. Our team divided and packed the donation supply parcels, including sandwiches, bananas, soy milk and socks for the homeless. The group met Sunny, founder of Sunshine Action, a non-profit organization, which has experience in helping the homeless. He gave us a quick brief of the do’s and don’ts and took the lead through a tunnel where some unfortunate inhabitants are staying. After that, we travelled to a few public parks that were filled with dispossessed citizens. I remember some of them lying down under a bridge, some buried under three or four layers of blankets, while others shared a makeshift bed made from cardboard boxes and the rest slept on benches. It was a hurtful moment for us to see what this population of fellow human beings is going through.

Although our encounters with the homeless were not lengthy, we were able to pray for them as a group at the end of the day’s activity. We met amazing people and heard heart breaking stories of how they ended up in this dire situation. It was so heartening to see the faces of these people light up when they learned they could have some basic essentials to get them through another day. As the assistant leader of this service program, I experienced specific challenges endemic to leaders. We had to reach out to make contacts to collaborate with an organization and plan out all details.

Friends, let us not love in word or talk but in deed and in truth as in Acts 20:35, “In everything I did, I showed you that by this kind of hard work, we must help the weak, remembering the words the Lord Jesus himself said; ‘It is more blessed to give than to receive’.”
Community Service Outreach: Mission Trips Overview

“He said, “Your name shall no longer be Jacob, but Israel, for you have striven with God and with men and have prevailed.” Genesis 32:28

HKAC mission trips started with the HKAC Choir. Many of the members joined the choir because they loved singing, but because of the spiritual nature of our school, most of the songs the choir sing are about God. Thus, we decided to design an activity that would make the songs they are singing real to them: a mission trip where they would learn about others of different cultures, experience some hardship in order to take the focus away from self, sing songs of praise and thanksgiving, serve people according to their need, and give the Holy Spirit the opportunity to work on the hearts of these young people. And through-out the years, we have been planting, others have been reaping, and God is constantly giving the increase. And through these trips we realize, our students are not ours, but His own.

“A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another, even as I have loved you, that you also love one another.” (John 13:34)

Our 2015 mission trip to Indonesia was a cultural adventure that was rooted in love and Christ. We collaborated with a group of missionaries in Indonesia called Advent Peduli (Adventists Care). They organized a two-week stay in a rural Muslim village. During our time there, the students were divided two-by-two to live with different host families (who promptly fell in love with them). Advent Peduli ran health seminars for the villagers, teaching them how to keep healthy lives. Our students helped with these seminars, led VBS programs, and went house to house visiting and ministering to the village folk. One lady in the village had been ostracized for two years because of paralysis resulting from a stroke. The missionaries and our students visited her daily, praying with her and administering massages and hydro-therapy. To the immense surprise of everyone, including the sick woman herself, she started to have feeling in her limbs. With tears in her eyes, she profusely gave thanks saying, “Why in the world would people from Hong Kong care about an old woman like me? Praise be to God.”
The Philippines (Iloilo City) Mission Trip (2016)
by Arlene Sliagian (Choir Director, 2008-2017)

“Day by day continuing with one mind in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, they were taking their meals together with gladness and sincerity of heart, praising God and having favor with all the people. And the Lord was adding to their number day by day those who were being saved.” (Acts 2:46-47)

In 2016, we decided to visit the town of La Paz in Iloilo City, Philippines. One of the reasons we did so was because of two sisters attending Bayview Church, Sheila and Shirley Tandang. La Paz is their home town in the Philippines, and the principal of the Adventist school there wanted us to help with outreach programs in their community. Our students were invited to live in the homes of church members for two weeks (two to three to a home), learning how to communicate with the locals and how to travel independently in a different culture.

The students organized nightly crusades, ran day-time health fairs, held concerts in malls, and went on afternoon visitations to homes of the indigent. Out of all the mission trips that have been organized, this one was quite different because of the location in a big town. The students did not stay close to each other but had to travel back and forth from their home to the school, some travelling by local transportation and others by motorcycles.

Dolly, a blind masseuse, who attended the nightly meetings, wept greatly when the group was about to leave. Touching Justin’s face as she said goodbye, she said to him, “Please, when we are finally home in God’s kingdom, please come up and say, hello to me. I wasn’t able to see your face on this earth, but in heaven, I want to recognize you.”
The Philippines (Iloilo City) Mission Trip (2016)
by Christopher H.S. Liaw, Senior, HKAC Department of Psychology

This was my first experience of being part of a mission team. As a newcomer, I tried to follow every instruction and provide any sort of assistance that’s required me. We reached Iloilo City just right before the sun set; there’s light upon our faces when we reached our destination. We were warmly welcomed by students and faculty.

During the day, we conducted home visitations in nearby neighbourhoods and invited them for evangelistic meetings during evenings. These would last for five days. The Event itself was separated into two sessions. During the first one, a few of us were given the chance to speak about the importance of hygiene as well as some other health related presentations. The second session was all about spreading the gospel, thereby sharing the good news of Jesus Christ to those who had come to listen to the session. When the evangelistic meeting was taking place, some of us were stationed in a classroom to teach young children about Jesus.

Beyond that, we collaborated with the local high school and continued our health expo event. The event itself had different sections, such as an area for blood pressure monitoring, a health massage area, a health information area, as well as a health package distribution area. During one health massage session, an elderly person walked in with a serious facial expression. I offered what little I could do, which was to provide a health massage. I was shocked that his right arm was really stiff. From head to shoulder on both of his arms, (especially for his right arm) I tried my best to massage the muscles, yet it didn’t seem to be effective. One of the local staff or faculty told me that the man actually suffered from stroke a few years ago and now he could move his right arm. I was shocked. As I massaged, tear drops and a surge of compassion swelled up in me, as I was finished this patient’s health massage session. Other peoples awaited their turn for a health massage. I offered a prayer to the elderly. After my prayer, this stroke victim nodded at me and walked slowly away with a smile on his face.

Never could I imagine that missionary service would impact me so much! I’ve learned to be open minded towards different cultures and ethnicity. Also, I’ve learned that we have to be grateful to God, no matter what kind of situation we face. The Lord uses us to reach out to those in need. All is according His plan. Amen!
Thailand/Myanmar Mission Trip (2017)
by Arlene Siagian (Choir Director, 2008-2017)

“You also became imitators of us and of the Lord, having receive the word in much tribulation with the joy of the Holy Spirit, so that you became an example to all the believers in Macedonia and in Achaia.” (1 Thes. 1: 6-7)

In 2017, our team of young people flew to Bangkok, joined a group of high-school students from Korea, and traveled by vans to a remote part of Thailand, bordering with Myanmar. On the way to Sunshine Orchard, we passed a United Nations Refugee Camp, the homes cramping into one another, and we left wondering what we would find when we got to our destination. It was night when we reached the school, and we discovered that a dusty two-storey wooden structure was going to be our sleeping, eating, and teaching area for the coming two weeks. To the best of their ability, although tired and worn-out from twelve hours of driving, the students cleaned and set up the place to accommodate them, the girls on the top floor, and the boys downstairs.

The next two weeks were some of the busiest weeks the student missionaries had ever experienced: worship was at 6 a.m., breakfast at 7, and then work at 8. The work that we did was across the river on the Myanmar side of the school. The students worked to renovate an old building so that it could be used as a classroom for the Myanmar students. After lunch, we returned to the Thailand campus to hold classes for the students there. The HKAC students taught various instruments: violin, flute, trombone, ukulele, choir, and guitar. Drawing and crafts classes were also offered, as well as some sport activities like football and basketball. In the evenings, the students actively participated in a Week of Prayer program: preaching, singing, giving testimonies, and praying. Before we went to sleep, we had another worship session, just the HKAC students and their Korean friends. Then, under mosquito nets we went to enjoy some sleep before waking at 5.30 for a new day.

The last assembly was a sad one, with many people sobbing openly, and one of the student missionaries came to me at the end. “Where’s your luggage?” I asked. “I don’t have anything to take back with me,” she said. “I gave everything away, even my shoes.” She was wearing flip-flops. “I would give these away, too, but then I wouldn’t be able to walk,” she said. This is true generosity of spirit from the heart!
The Sunshine Orchard Mission Trip (2017) - Border of Thailand and Myanmar
By Christopher Han Siang Liaw, Senior, Department of Psychology

Sunshine Orchard is a Christian learning centre on the border of Myanmar and Thailand. Established in 2009 out of a crisis situation, the School has developed quite a bit over the years. It took us more than ten hours journeying from the heart of Thailand to Northwest Mae Sot, where the centre was located. Our program was separated into two sections. There was a morning section, which was located at the border of Burma, and an afternoon section, which was at the centre. The morning section was our main project, where we hopped onto a large boat and crossed the river with native people pulling the ropes under strong currents. We were able to joint hands with the native people in the process of the reconstruction of a classroom. With our limited knowledge in the field of construction, we assisted by scraping old painted walls and renovating the classroom floor. All of us paid more attention to our local guide (Mr. Trunky’s) instructions to ensure that we do not waste any materials, which are hard difficult to acquire.

Right after lunch, we headed back to the centre and continued with our afternoon section. The afternoon section focused on the development of young children and adolescents. Therefore, for this session, we prepared handicrafts sessions, music sessions, choir sessions, as well as physical activity sessions.

During the evening, we held a joint evening devotions, where selected students and faculty were given the chance to spread the love of Christ by sharing special music and devotion. For this trip, we were all assigned to a specific duty, which was to form a group consisting of three to four students to help prepare every daily meal.

There were two specific incidents that really embedded deep into my heart and memory. The first one happened to be on the morning of the first day we had to cross the river. Surprisingly, it was a mere eight years old, young female child who was called “Litiwa” that pulls a huge boat with ropes. Not even mentioning how strong the currents were, the boat itself contained more than ten students. I was amazed by her bravery and strength, so I asked “where are the adults? Why are you the one that pulled us to cross this dangerous river?” She then answered, “They all went to work”. Another incident that remains with me occurred on the last day where we were leaving. A young girl gave away her treasured item, which was a doll, to one of our students as a souvenir.

The above specific incident made me realize that there’s so much more we can do for others, if only we had much more time and resources. Our mission trip really changed that community’s experience, not only physically and mentally, but most importantly, spiritually. Litiwa strove for survival and progress; her bravery stands out even among young adolescents. The young girl had few personal items, yet she decided to give away her favourite doll. We went to provide community and spiritual services, yet it was mission trip members who are the ones that were actually at the receiving end. Once again, God is beautiful!
The Philippines Cagayan De Oro Mission Trip (2018 )
by Dixon Ng, Junior, Department of Psychology

In 2018, the Hong Kong Adventist College (HKAC) Mission Team went to Cagayan De Oro, Philippines, to have a crusade in Lumbia SDA Church. Mission Team 2018 had 20 members, consist of students from HKAC and Hong Kong Adventist Academy (HKAA), faculties, and staffs.

Before the trip, HKAC Mission Team members had to fundraise over 130,000 HKD. This was accomplished mostly through food sales at a Food and Fun Fair, hosting concerts, financial sponsorships by HKAC and church members’ offerings, as well as food sales during lunch times. Much preparation needed to be executed, including buying tickets, contacting churches, multiple organizations, buying insurance, and making team uniform for the mission trip.

The Mission Trip took place from Feb 16 to Feb 25. Members stayed in Mountain View College for Sabbath the first two days and then left for the South Philippine Union Conference, in order to prepare for an evangelism meeting. From Feb 19 to Feb 23 on a daily basis, we held a series of evangelism meetings, health lectures, a children’s program, and a teenagers’ program. In between those days, we also had visitation, community services, and a special meeting with high school students at Lumbia National High School. On Feb 23, our mission team headed to Gumaod, and we had a groundbreaking ceremony for the new Gumaod SDA church. Every day we had prayers group and worshiped every morning and at the end of the evangelism meeting. On Feb 24 Sabbath, we had around 20 people who were baptized. One of our members also decided to be baptized on the same day.
Cambodia Mission Trip (2019)
By Jonathan Zu Wei Yeo, Senior, Department of Psychology

The Hong Kong Adventist College Choir team has been organizing a mission trip every year since 2011. They were in Indonesia, Malaysia, and the Philippines twice as well as India and Thailand (Myanmar border) once.

In 2019, twenty college students and three HKAC staff members (Pastor Ben Seo, Choir Director Bart Brono, and Dormitory Dean Kat Ma) travelled 1,549 kilometres to Cambodia after nine months of planning, the team served as missionaries at Takeo Adventist School in Phnom Penh from February 1st to 11th.

"The School provides free kindergarten to 12 grade education to all 250 students here," said Principal David Kim who has been serving the school for 9 years. In addition to painting the buildings, teaching crafts and music, and sharing testimonies to the students, mission team members also "adopted" the kids from the orphanage on campus for 10 days and threw them a birthday party. Although many orphans do not know when their birthdays are, their births are worth celebrating. Hong Kong Adventist College President Dr. Dan Cheung, and his wife, Dr. Corjena Cheung visited the team and spent the last five days at the school with them giving a sermon on Sabbath and two health talks to the students and the community.

At the end of the trip, it came to the fun and sad part. The team visited the Killing Fields Museum to learn more about the Cambodian history and participated in a bonfire party at school on the last day. It was a very difficult goodbye, especially to our new friends and to the children. The experience gained from this trip has far exceeded what was given!

"In this mission trip, I had learned that, nothing is impossible in God’s hand, if you surrender to him. It was not easy for the team to work together harmoniously due to different ages, ethnicities, norms, and so forth; but we made it through with the POWER of God, and the daily fellowship with the brothers and sisters in Christ. This trip also reminded me that God always has a better plan than we do and that He is faithful to His people no matter what we have been through.” (Jonathan Yeoh)

We are to call all people to become disciples of Jesus Christ, to proclaim the everlasting gospel embraced by the three angels' messages (Revelation 14:6-12), and to prepare those living in our territories for Christ's soon return.

Guided by the Bible and the Holy Spirit, we pursue this mission through God given methods by focused efforts in three core areas of church life: spiritual, functional and numerical growth.

Our vision is in harmony with Bible revelation, Seventh-day Adventists see as the climax of God's plan the restoration of all His creation to full harmony with His perfect will and righteousness.
